Eisenhower Swings Hidden Punch At The Siegfried Line

Attack By Four Armies Thrusts Menacingly at Possible Invasion Spot Along Entire 200-Mile Assault Front

TIGHT NEWS BLACKOUT PUT ON DEVELOPMENTS

BULLETIN
Moselle River Front, Sept. 8.—(P)—The Third Army threw three more bridgeheads across the Moselle river and enlarged two others against stiff resistance today. The Americans smashed an attack by a force of 6,000 Germans and 35 tanks which tried to cut behind the Third Army's rear between Metz and Verdun.

By JAMES M. LONG

London, Sept. 8.—(P)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower swung a hidden punch at the Siegfried Line today as four Allied armies broke the Albert Canal defense and thrust menacingly at possible invasion spots along a 200-mile assault front.

The attack carried to within 25 miles of the German frontier at three places—north of the canal, close to Liege in Belgium and at Metz in France—and the Seventh Army of Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch, moving up from the Mediterranean, completed the line of threat by reaching Besancon, 50 miles from the Belfort Gap just above Switzerland.

Seventh Army Pushes Into Besancon in South France After Swift Advance From Arbois

NEARING SWISS BORDER

By GEORGE BRIA

Rome, Sept. 8.—(P)—American troops of the Seventh Army, pushing into Besancon in southern France after a swift advance from Arbois, were engaged in heavy fighting today with Nazi forces attempting to cover the retreat of battered 19th Army remnants fleeing toward the Belfort Gap, 50 miles to the northeast.

The Gap—situated in the lowlands between the Vosges range and the Swiss border at the lower tip of the Siegfried Line—is the sole area where there are no mountains to block the Seventh Army's entrance to the Reich.

The Americans penetrated into the western, southern and eastern sections of Besancon following a series of sharp fights with substantial forces of Germans employing machineguns, mortars and tanks in the first real resistance encountered on the southern French front in several days.

West of Besancon Allied forward elements breached the Nazi defense line set up along the Loue (Turn to Page Thirteen)

BULLETINS

Alpena, Mich., Sept. 8.—(P)—James A. Reed, 82, former Missouri senator, died today at 12:30 p. m. of bronchitis.

Kirkham, England, Sept. 8.—(P)—The American bomber which killed 60 persons in its flaming plunge into Freckleton Aug. 23 was struck by lightning during a violent storm, it was testified at an inquest which returned a verdict of death by misadventure. Nine American soldiers and 38 children were among the killed.

London, Sept. 8.—(P)—The Paris radio quoted Madrid advices today as saying all Germans between the ages of 16 and 60 residing in Spain had been ordered to return to the Reich immediately. Only the diplomatic corps was unaffected, the advices said.

London, Sept. 8.—(P)—Premier Hubert Pierlot of the Belgian government-in-exile has left London with members of his cabinet to return to the homeland, a large portion of which already has been liberated by the Allied armies.

Moscow, Sept. 8.—(P)—A 16-man Finnish armistice delegation headed by Premier Hannu Hakola arrived here last night and was expected to embark today on formal negotiations with Soviet government representatives.

Washington, Sept. 8.—(P)—President Roosevelt declared today that defeat of Nazi armies must be followed by eradication of "weapons of economic warfare."

REDS SEEKING TO JOIN WITH TITO'S FORCES

Russians Smash Through Balkans In Three-Pronged Drive Threatening Hold On Vital Area

DRIVE TO AEGEAN SEA

BULLETIN

London, Sept. 8.—(P)—The United Nations radio at Algiers said tonight that Russian troops had joined with Free Yugoslav forces and captured their first town in Yugoslavia.

By EDDIE GILMORE

Moscow, Sept. 8.—(P)—The Red army slashed through the Balkans today in a three-pronged drive which promised to smash Hitler's fast weakening hold on that vital area and trap thousands of his troops by cutting all communications with the homeland.

Advanced Russian units moved west toward a juncture with Marshal Tito's forces and Allied troops in Yugoslavia, while others advanced steadily toward the important road and communications center of Sibiu in Transylvania.

Civilian sources were silent on military operations against Bulgaria and there was no indication of any response to Bulgarian pleas for an armistice.

(A German report said Russian troops fanning out across Bulgaria in a drive toward the Aegean Sea had reached the area of Demotiza inside Greece on the Turkish frontier.)

In Poland Red army forces edged forward northeast of Warsaw toward the southern border of East Prussia, fighting against unusually stiff German resistance that included large forces of tanks and self-propelled guns.

Allied Chiefs Are Expected To Meet Soon

London, Sept. 8.—(P)—The conviction grew today that Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt are planning to meet again very soon—probably in Quebec—to plan the peace and bring to life a master plan for unleashing the whole Allied might against Japan the moment Germany is crushed.

With the presidential campaign under way in the United States, and the consequent danger of any conference becoming embroiled in political issues, the feeling among many London observers is that Roosevelt and Churchill must meet outside the United States.

While military operations are at their most satisfactory state of the entire war, the diplomatic field offers multiple possibilities for disruption.

One of the knottiest problems facing the two leaders is presented by Poland. Both the United States and Britain are standing behind the exiled Polish government, while Russia supports the Polish Committee of National Liberation, already set up in that country.

As the Allies close in on Japan, the possibility of further coordination of all commands in the Pacific—even placing all under one supreme commander similar to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in Europe—may be discussed.

Rumblings Presage Additions To Currently Idle Workers

By the Associated Press

Rumblings along the nation's labor front heightened today as threats of work stoppages presaged a heavy addition to the large number of workers currently idle because of disputes.

The labor controversies affected a variety of industries and kept idle an estimated 20,000 workers. Coal mines, steel mills and war plants were involved in the disputes.

Coal mines closed in Pennsylvania and West Virginia numbered 23 as crews began reporting back to work at several pits seized by the government in the dispute over recognition of the mine workers' union. An estimated 9,000 were away from their jobs but cleanup crews were to enter six

West Virginia pits, paying the way for a resumption of production under terms of Wednesday's government seizure order which placed 15 mines in the two states under federal control.

Eleven thousand aircraft production workers made idle by a strike by 265 employees at the Briggs Manufacturing Co.'s Conner plant in Detroit were scheduled to return to their jobs today. Another dispute in the motor city, however, at the Packard Motor Car Co., kept an estimated 8,000 away from work. A back-to-work meeting was scheduled today.

A third controversy involved 400 workers at Ford's Willow Run bomber plant who quit work yesterday in a dispute over seniority provisions.

First Chill Weather Of Season Arrives

Pittsburgh, Sept. 8.—(P)—Fall weather chilled Pittsburghers today as the mercury at Municipal Airport fell to 46, only one degree above the all-time low for this date in 1932.

Continued clear, cool weather is predicted, with a high of 70 and low of 45 expected today.

In Erie the temperature dipped to 56, for the low of the season, topcoats appeared and furnaces were lighted. Slightly warmer weather was forecast.

2,000 Heavies Attack France And Germany

BULLETIN

Rome, Sept. 8.—(P)—All main German escape and supply lines from Vienna and Budapest to Bulgaria and Greece are impassable, the U. S. 15th Air force announced today, while American bombers and fighters struck anew at railroads and airdromes in seething Yugoslavia.

London, Sept. 8.—(P)—Almost 2,000 American and British heavy bombers attacked installations in southwest Germany and the besieged Nazi garrison at Le Havre today.

American bombers were accompanied by 500 Mustang fighters and battered chemical and oil plants at Ludwigshafen in the Siegfried Line zone, an ordnance depot at Kastel near Mainz, and an armored car plant at Gustavsburg, southwest of Frankfurt.

All the objectives were in the upper Rhineland opposite Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's American Third Army, "nassing in the Moselle" river basin for a drive into the German fortifications.

The weather was the best in several days and the bombers were able to see their targets, except at Ludwigshafen where clouds were banked.

Low-level attacks by French-based Thunderbolts yesterday destroyed 483 trucks, 217 horse-drawn vehicles and 20 pieces of armor. These operations were without interference from the Nazi air force.

RAF Mosquito bombers loosed tons of bombs last night on the Rhineland city of Karlsruhe, in the German west wall 100 miles beyond where the American Third Army is fighting in the Metz area. Mosquitoes last night also battered (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Italy To Be Given Additional Aid

Washington, Sept. 8.—(P)—Asserting that much of Italy had been devastated by war, President Roosevelt said today that her 45,000,000 people—living in an area less than the size of California and with poor natural resources—will need additional assistance from the Allies if she is to stand on her own feet.

He told his news conference that Brig. Gen. William O'Dwyer, American economic officer in Italy, has returned to the United States and will talk with him at the White House today about plans for this aid.

He said military authorities were moving in vital medical supplies and so far Great Britain and the United States had sent in more than $100,000,000 worth of all kinds of supplies. Fuel supplies have been furnished mostly by England with a big part of the food coming from the United States.

BLUE TOKENS WILL GO OUT OF USE OCTOBER 1

Washington, Sept. 8.—(P)—The Office of Price Administration is scrapping its seven months old system of blue tokens for buying processed foods.

The blue tokens will go out of use October 1, no longer needed because most canned foods are going off the ration list.

Between September 17—when all but fruit and a few other canned foods go off rationing—and October 1 shoppers will not be given blue tokens as change and they will be able to spend the processed food discs only in units of ten. From that time on point values on processed foods will be in multiples of ten. There will be no change in use of red tokens for buying meats and dairy products.

PLANES BLAST WAR PLANTS IN MANCHURIA

Latest Action Swings Battle For Philippine Approaches To East of Vital Islands

PROBING IS WIDENED

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, Sept. 8.—(P)—Disclosure today of a teamwork blast at Palau, "the Japanese Singapore", by central Pacific aircraft carriers and southwest Pacific big bombers swung the battle for the Philippine approaches to the east, now that enemy defenses to the south have been largely caved in.

Superfortresses bombed Japanese war industries in Manchuria today on the heels of new American air threats to the Philippines.

The 20th Bomber Command said the B29 blow was directed at "important industrial targets."

The raid was first reported by Tokyo radio, which said a score or more superfortresses participated. It told of violent air battles over Anshan, steel center 60 miles from Mukden, and intimated Antung, center of the Manchurian light metals industry, might also have been hit.

Palau, whose anchorage can accommodate a huge fleet within 550 miles of the Philippines, was swarmed on Tuesday by fighter planes from flat tops, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported.

MacArthur's air arm, already jabbing at the Philippines in the Mindanao sector, previously has laid waste to the Japanese air force along the south approaches. MacArthur's air force for the first time widened its probing of the south Philippine defenses, with night patrol planes raiding 230 miles west of Davao at Zamboanga, heavily damaging two enemy naval auxiliaries.

The destruction of 15 parked planes in an 86-ton strike by escorted Liberators on the north end of Dutch Celebes also was announced by MacArthur. The fighters probably downed one of what was officially labelled "six non-aggressive interceptors."

Martin Urges Wiping Out of Tax Burden

Pittsburgh, Sept. 8.—(P)—Gov. Edward Martin today offered "practice of governmental economy" as the postwar solution to liquidate a "terrific tax burden and the largest debt in the history of all governments."

"Every needless job, every duplication and overlapping of government agencies must be wiped out," he said. "We must learn to do more with less and learn to demand less from government and do more ourselves."

In a prepared address before the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce, he declared that if our government is to "survive," that debt (Turn to Page Thirteen)

SOCIALIST CANDIDATE PITTSBURGH SPEAKER

Pittsburgh, Sept. 8.—(P)—Lasting peace can only be reached by elimination of "racial prejudices," Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for president, declared last night in an address here.

He described his party's platform as seeking passage of a permanent fair employment practices law, a federal anti-lynching statute and repeal of all poll tax qualifications.

"We shall have neither peace, nor freedom, nor fellowship until racial discrimination is conquered," he told a Socialist party rally.

The Socialist party platform and candidates are leading the way, Thomas said, "toward a genuine brotherhood of man regardless of race."

788 CASES LISTED IN STATE POLIO OUTBREAK

Harrisburg, Sept. 8.—(P)—Pennsylvania's infantile paralysis outbreak today totaled 788 official cases spread over 56 counties.

The health department listed 19 new cases, including eight in Delaware county, four in Northumberland, two each in Bradford and Chester and one each in Berks, Lebanon and Tioga.

The Philadelphia health bureau said cases in its area now total 204.

EMPLOYEE OF NATIONAL FORGE VICTIM OF FATAL ACCIDENT

Clarence E. Jones, 50, of Youngsville, was fatally hurt about ten o'clock this morning at the plant of the National Forge & Ordnance Co., at Irvine. William Darling, also of Youngsville, was treated for slight injuries by a physician who was called from Youngsville. The accident occurred when double chains attached to a crane carrying four hot forgings weighing 1,280 pounds each, broke while moving them through an alleyway from a track to a furnace. The two workmen were in a pit skirting the alley when the accident occurred, causing the forgings to drop a distance of about 18 feet. Mr. Jones sustained third and fourth degree burns about the chest, abdomen, left forearm, hands and both thighs, as well as a deep laceration on the back of the skull and left temple. He was removed to the first aid room and a physician summoned, but died about fifteen minutes after the accident. The investigation revealed that (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Dewey To Deliver His Second Major Campaign Talk Tonight

By JACK BELL

En Route West With Dewey, Sept. 8.—(P)—A world peace built on a framework of international organization in which small nations have a proportionate voice is expected to be urged tonight by Governor Thomas E. Dewey at Louisville, Ky., in his second major presidential campaign address.

The Republican nominee cloaked himself with advisers as his campaign train steamed toward politically-doubtful Kentucky, after a ringing denunciation last night of what he charged was the plan of the "tired, exhausted, quarrelling and bickering" new deal to keep men overly long in the armed forces to lessen unemployment at the war's end.

Asserting that President Roosevelt's administration is "afraid of America" and is "getting all set for another depression," Dewey told a cheering audience of about 13,000 persons in Philadelphia's Convention Hall that "with the winning of the war in sight there are two great overshadowing problems."

"First," he said, "the making and keeping of the peace of the world so that your children and my children shall not face this tragedy all over again."

"The other problem," he continued, "is whether we shall replace the tired and quarrelsome defeatism of the present administration with a fresh and vigorous government which believes in the (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Soldier Held For Killing Farmer

Marshall, Ill., Sept. 8.—(P)—Sheriff Willie Shawver said today that a soldier from Camp Pickett, Va. had made a written confession that he flatly stabbed Vincent Nowashoski, farmer of Blossburg, Pa., last month while enroute to camp after a furlough.

The soldier also revealed in the confession, the sheriff said that he buried the body under a stone fence near Dewart, Northumberland county, Pa.

New Superfort Raid Made On Jap Arsenal

Washington, Sept. 8.—(P)—A new Superfortress raid on the Japanese arsenal of Manchuria was announced today by the 20th Bomber Command, and the Tokyo radio reported more than 100 planes had taken part.

The U. S. army announcement said only that "important industrial targets in Japanese-dominated Manchuria" were the prey of the B-29s.

As in previous forays, the 20th Bomber Command withheld announcement of results pending the return of the bombers to their bases. (Turn to Page Thirteen)

1-A's and 18-Year-Olds To Supply Army Needs This Year

Washington, Sept. 8.—(P)—Selective service said today that men already in Class 1-A and new 18-year-olds can more than supply the needs of the armed forces for the rest of 1944.

Draft Director Lewis B. Hershey estimated that 690,000 physically able men would be available for induction from those sources alone, compared with estimated needs of 600,000.

His estimates were in a letter to all draft board members giving the supply-and-demand picture up to next Jan. 1. "Important industrial targets in Japanese-dominated Manchuria" were the prey of the B-29s. As in previous forays, the 20th Bomber Command withheld announcement of results pending the return of the bombers to their bases. (Turn to Page Thirteen)

UPRISING IS SPREADING IN THE BALKANS

Partisans and Russians On East Press Tighter Jaws Of Trap Fashioned On Enemy In South

ASSEMBLY IS DISSOLVED

London, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Fighting has broken out between Bulgars and Germans on the Serbian border, Cairo reports said today, and the Free Yugoslav radio declared a mass uprising "on an unprecedented scale" had started against enemy occupation forces.

The Yugoslav radio said the Serbs were in general revolt and attacking garrisons. The Nazis and collaborators were declared in panicky flight toward Hungary. Marshal Tito's forces were said to have tripled in size during the last few days as his Partisans and the Russians on the east pressed tighter the jaws of a trap fashioned for the enemy in the southern Balkans.

The Bulgarian government sought peace with the Allies. The Bulgar-German clashes were apparently on a small scale and not a part of any concerted Bulgarian campaign against the Germans, as well as from Crete and the Cyclades. These troops were reported being regrouped in north-eastern areas to meet the Russian-Bulgarian threat. (Turn to Page Thirteen)

231 Nips Killed In Bloody Revolt

Canberra, Australia, Sept. 8.—(P)—Prime Minister John Curtin today placed the blame entirely on Japanese war prisoners for the bloody Aug. 5 mutiny in an Australian prison camp. He said the Japanese had followed concerted plans for a suicidal combat with Australian guards.

When the skirmish ended, 231 Japanese were dead from gunfire and suicide or were killed by their fellow prisoners. One hundred eight were wounded. Australian casualties were "light."

More than 900 Japanese participated. A number escaped from the camp, but all were recaptured. The Australian government, said the prime minister, has furnished a report of the incident to representatives of the protecting power for transmission to the Japanese government.

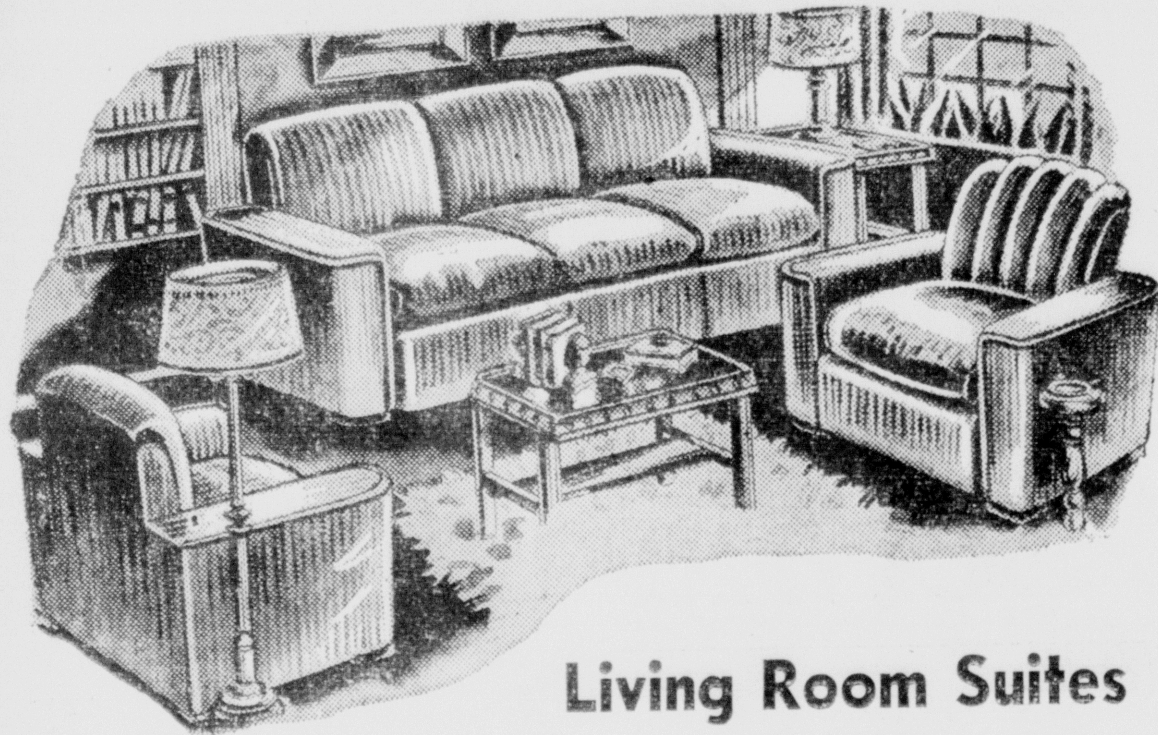

Incarcerated bodies of Japanese were found in the burned huts. Twenty of the prisoners died by hanging or strangulation, inflicted on themselves or on each other. Nine committed suicide by stabbing themselves and two threw themselves under a train.

Of the wounded, 15 showed evidence of attempted suicide.

SECURITY PLANS MATURE

Washington, Sept. 8.—(P)—An Anglo-American-Russian plan for a world security system is being put into final shape at Dumbarton Oaks. Barring last minute developments, it should be ready for study by the Chinese next week.

F. M. District Heads Chosen At Conference

The second and third sessions of the Oil City Free Methodist annual conference were held yesterday on the Pleasantville camp grounds. One hundred ten ministers and delegates were present for the morning session.

The four district superintendents were elected as follows:
Oil City—L. J. Lindsey;
New Castle and Erie—R. R. Blew;

Bradford—G. G. Saylor;
DuBois and Tyrone—D. N. Thomas.

Bishop Leslie R. Marston is addressing the conference each morning at 8:45 from the subject, "A Blameless Ministry."

Rev. O. H. Shellhaus from Cyclone, Bradford district, preached yesterday afternoon.

The Women's Missionary society met in Horning Hall for its first session Thursday afternoon, with Mrs. Grace Lindsey, of New Castle presiding. Outstanding events of this session were reports of conference officers.

Mrs. Nellie Stimer, of Youngsville, treasurer, reported $18,800 raised for missions the past year.

Miss Kate Leininger returned missionary from China, was present. She was interned by the Japanese nearly two years before being repatriated on the Gripsholm on Dec. 1 of last year. Miss Leininger will speak Sunday afternoon at 2:30, telling of her experiences in a Japanese camp, also of her trip home on an exchange ship.

Missionaries To Return To Their Fields

Meadville, Sept. 8.—(P)—Dr. Ralph Diffendorfer, executive secretary of the Methodist board of foreign missions, disclosed today all of the 52 missionaries repatriated from the far east aboard the exchange ship Gripsholm have asked to return to their fields as soon as war conditions permit.

He told the Erie conference of the Methodist church: "The missionary spirit still is dominant among the peoples of the war ravaged areas."

Dr. Diffendorfer said a dozen church-supported institutions, each equal in size to Allegheny college (where the current conference is under way) have been destroyed during the war.

Capt. Ralph E. Stiles of Camp Lee, Va., a conference minister now serving as an army chaplain, predicted the goal of 1,500 Methodist chaplains in the services would soon be realized.

F. W. White, manager of the Pittsburgh branch of the Methodist Publishing House, reported $7,000,000 in sales throughout the denomination during the past year and said $350,000 in earnings was being set aside as an endowment fund for retired ministers' annuities.

For the first time, laymen will be permitted to serve on committees which nominate conference boards, committees and commissions in the conference.

The committee is extending an invitation to the Franklin football team to attend the party. The decorating committee has already started on its plans for a clever football theme.

The community party committee will meet Sunday evening to make final plans for the party.

NO ROBBERY

One of the barrel plants at Clarendon reported this week that robbers had been in the office of the plant. State Police investigated and discovered that there were no robbers. It was the earthquake which was felt here Monday night and things in the office were badly messed up. Things had been rattled off shelves, articles on desks had been moved and other properties wiggled around. Check showed no one had entered the place and that nothing was missing.

GREAT ACHIEVEMENT

The war caught us flat-footed. The Japs put over a stinging blow at Pearl Harbor. Yet today America has the greatest fleet in the world. American industry's ingenuity and American labor's zeal have built the staggering total of 65,000 vessels for the Navy in five years.

Because of them the victorious advances of our land forces are possible. They provided the means and the protection for the greatest landing operations in history. These ships have driven the Jap navy to cover after crippling it in repeated encounters. They will carry the fight—and the army—to the Philippines and China and Japan itself.

It has been a magnificent achievement, from the subcontractors who fashion the ships' components to the men who sail the ships and man their guns.

The moral has been made before but it's worth making again: Management has fumbled and wasted; labor has grumbled and struck. But what a job has been done by the great unpublicized majority of both segments of industry! It's not too much to trust that they can do as big a job in peacetime, too.

STOP-PRESS NEWS

(From the Pittsburgh Press)

Paper is scarce, too scarce for us to print as many pages or copies of this newspaper as we would like to.

So it kind of spoils our day to sift through the Washington handouts and find a mimeographed sheet from the office of defense transportation slugged "advance release; for Sunday papers, Aug. 27, 1944," and with further notation, "cleared and issued through facilities of the office of war information."

You might suppose, with all that fanfare, that this was going to be something pretty exciting. But no. Here's what it said:

"Motorists who find their engines knocking more frequently than in the past were informed by the office of defense transportation today that this increasing knocking might presumably be caused by the change in the quality of the gasoline now available at filling stations," etc.

Does the O. D. T. suppose that there is any small child or village halfwit who hasn't known that for many months?

UNITY OF PURPOSE

According to DeWitt MacKenzie, Associated Press war analyst, the Allied high command is giving us a perfect example of coordination as it flings everything it has in all theatres at the staggering Hitlerites—on the western front, in the Balkans, in Italy, and on that other great invisible and ever changing front of the air.

Here we have a display of unity of purpose and viewpoint among the battling Allies which will take us to great heights if we can carry it on into the peace.

Things go well for the Allies on all fronts. Naturally there's special interest in the western theatre because it's there that we are closest to the frontier of the enemy—closest to that mysterious and supposedly powerful Siegfried line which guards the heart of the Reich. We are driving in toward this west wall all along our battle-front.

Secretary of War Stimson says "evidence is mounting that the German armies in the west have been so badly battered that they cannot long maintain a prolonged defense of the Reich, and their situation on the other fronts is deteriorating." That's well put, but he is equally wise when he adds:

"The war won't be won until Allied troops are in Berlin."

It needn't take long now to knock Hitler out. But barring a collapse of German morale we must be prepared for some fierce fighting. Indeed we're getting it now, both in the Russian theatre and in the west. In France Patton's famous Third Army, which again is on the drive after being held up a week for supplies, has encountered heavy resistance along the Moselle river where he has established two river-heads and been thrown back from another.

It's indeed a race against time. Anything that delays the Allies now gives Hitler a few more gasps of life. For example Patton's enforced halt, while supplies were brought up, undoubtedly gave the Germans a chance to strengthen their defenses opposite the Third Army, making Patton's progress more difficult now.

Washington In Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Over in the Treasury Department, they just call it "the cash room," but it should have a better name than that.

It's the place where thousands of Washington government workers, allotment and pension receivers go to get their checks cashed. More checks are cashed there every month than in any bank in the world.

In wartime Washington, there are days when it looks like a madhouse, but it never is. Seven tellers, the fastest money handlers operating today, see that it isn't. On the bigger paydays (Uncle Sam used to pay on the first and 15th, but now has staggered paydays to level off the rush to some extent) a teller will handle between 600 and 700 checks. Under real pressure, the best of the tellers can cash three checks a minute.

Tellers, on big days, will pay as much as $100,000 apiece. The Treasury cash room is unique in several other ways. For example, they never pay out anything but brand new money and there's no danger of running out because Mr. Morgenthau has $70,000,000 of it on hand all the time in his vaults—incidentally the only money that the U. S. Treasury in Washington has. Those billions are all bookkeeping and distributions from the mints and Bureau of Engraving.

Another feature of the cash room is the change windows where the larger bills can be changed into smaller or even jingling money. A favorite with some of the Negro government workers, according to Joseph E. Webb, one of the tellers, who is responsible for most of this information, are "beau dollars," the silver cartwheels which are so common in the west but as scarce as $2 bills in the east.

Being human, and thus capable of error, the tellers sometimes do make mistakes but far less than you would expect in view of the amount of money handled. According to Webb, the cash room has a system whereby any person short-changed will always get the amount that is due him. They haven't been able to figure out a system yet that will make all those who get overpaid bring back the pickup. Many think that it comes out of Uncle Sam, who can well afford it. As a matter of fact, it comes out of the pockets of the tellers, who can't afford it so well.

NEW patrons of the cash room realize that they line up in what was once the most beautiful room in any Washington building. Its walls are lined with marble from Vermont, Tennessee and Italy.

Soon after the building was completed, President Grant held his first inaugural ball there March 4, 1869, and there's a story that at night one can still hear music echo through the chamber. I've never talked to any one who has been in there at night. Those who inhabit the place in the daytime say they can't hear anything but the jangle of coins and the rustle of folding money.

Key Country Club Saturday evening.

Next week the annual drive for funds for the Salvation Army will take place. The goal has been set, the workers all lined up and the drive promises to go over with a bang.

Plans have been completed for the annual Flower Show to be held next week at the Warren National Bank.

Everybody reads the Times-Mirror.

BEST LOVES OF THE BG*

'Course you've seen the September issue of CHARM, that marvelous mag which practically keeps a gal's fashion I. Q. in the respectable upper brackets. Naturally you've been gloating over the wonderful "On With the Job" fashions which cram every page. So you've discovered without our telling you that Betty Lee is the place in Warren where the BG (business girl) can find all the adorable, super-practical clothes that make her the apple of her boss' eye, the prop and stay of his business, not to mention the envy of all her friends! To make things even simpler for you, Betty Lee is collaborating with Susie, CHARM'S talented symbolic Business Girl, to write the thrilling story of Susie and her Best Loves. Here it is, in seven breath-taking chapters. If we don't miss our guess, you'll see yourself in Susie at every turn, discovering at your best-beloved store the clothes that help convert the most hum-drum job into a bright and promising career!

Chapter I

Susie could afford only one suit for the season, but everybody thought she had several! She picked a three piece suit at Betty Lee's... one the straight topper or the matching suit to work last Friday... and Saturday night, the very same topper slipped over her dress, went to the movies. Susie was pleased with the suit... with the new soft details... all wool Glen plaid. Topper $9.98, Suit $9.98.

Chapter II

The heart throb called the other night... wanted to meet Susie after work next day for dinner and a movie. Susie dived into her closet... found her snazziest sling pumps and bewitchingest hat... added them to her beloved basic. She looked neat at the office and the heart throb said she was a knockout in her two-piece Marie Phillips dickerie... with sharkskin dickie... 12.99. And Susie promised herself to look just as slick on her next desk-to-date in one of the many smart juniors advertised in the fashion magazine and found at Betty Lee from 10.99 to 25.00.

Chapter III

Susie found her seventh heaven of separates when she popped into Betty Lee's. She whisked out again quite a while later, with these "switchables"... said she would turn them into half a dozen Best Loves for the office. (Left) a soft 100% wool Scotch crown in aqua, cherry, navy, spice, yellow and pea green... 7.99... and a heavy all wool Scotch plaid skirt. (Right) a Hyde-Hyde jumper of tecca cloth in junior sizes... 7.99... and a long sleeve crepe with a small bow neckline... 4.99.

Chapter IV

When Susie got a raise, at first she couldn't figure why. Aha!... must be her B & G classic office dress by Marie Phillips that made her so efficient when she went in to take dictation. Susie tossed it at Betty Lee... sleek and smooth in rayon gabardine with a genuine saddle leather belt. Comes in gold, red and tan; sizes 10 to 20... 10.99. She has another Best Love for business... it's over Dorothy Korby of rayon crepe with classic tailored neckline. Gold, American Beauty and aqua. Sizes 10 to 18... 12.99.

Chapter V

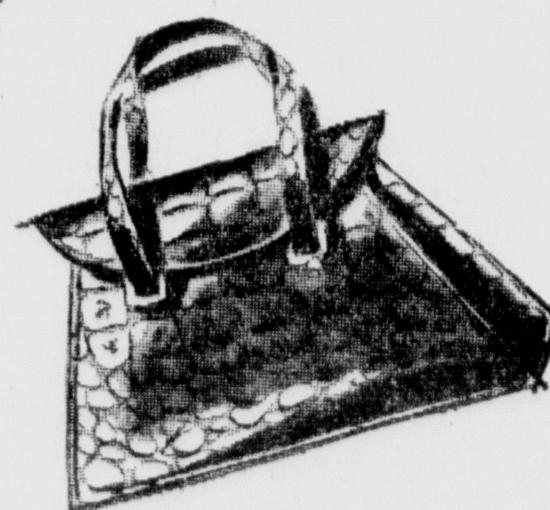

One night the B & G's who lived next door rapped on Susie's. "Harry... it's a come-as-you-are party in our robm NOW!" Horrors... Susie was caught in her only housecoat... faded, stained, and much the worse for skipping its weekly wash. Too bad Susie missed all the fun of the party... She spent the evening trying to hide in her horrible housecoat behind the bridge table. But never again... for next morning bright and early Susie went to Betty Lee's and bought this adorable warm chenille housecoat at 12.99.

Chapter VI

It looks awful, thought Susie, as she buttoned her old office coat over her darling date dress for the last time. Thank goodness I've found a coat at Betty Lee I can wear from desk-to-date and look smooth either place. And I do love the colors it comes in: gold, moss green, blue, brown, American beauty, black. Susie's new coat is a Junior Miss Classic 100% wool seede with big saucy jeweled bottoms, striking details and wonderful new deep armholes. Sizes 9 to 15... 39.98.

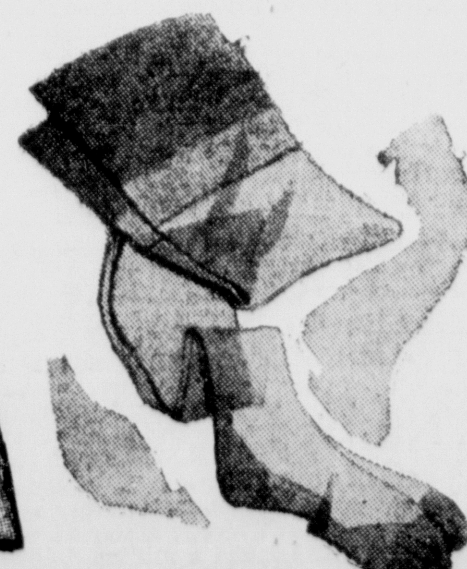

Chapter VII

Hollywood Gossip

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—It cost Samuel Goldwyn about $25,000 to dramatize his fight with the circuits at Reno by opening his "Up in Arms" there in a converted ballroom down by the tracks. "And I'll spend a million more on the fight if I have to," he said, doffing the plumed helmet of rescuing knight which he donned, figuratively, for the trip.

Goldwyn, with another independent producer named Mary Pickford, chose Reno for the battle—a town where many a movie domestic squabble has been settled—because in Reno all the theaters are controlled by one circuit. And the circuit, he charged, closed its theaters to his film except at its own terms—too low, Sam said, for a picture that cost him $2,500,000.

It is not a new battle, this between theater chains and independent producers, nor was it the first time Sam has used a small or makeshift theater to buck the circuits which refused to meet his terms. But it is likely to be a continuing battle, with more and more producers turning away from the major companies to make their own pictures. Now movie stars are joining the "indie" parade: Bing Crosby, an actor under contract to Paramount, is a producer on his own. James Cagney, Gary Cooper, Don Ameche are recent recruits to the field, and the films they make all will have to be sold to the theaters.

GOLDWYN'S contention is that, especially in this era of booming box-office returns, theaters should be willing to kick more of the proceeds back to the producers.

"Our costs for everything—labor, materials, scripts, talent—have zoomed," he says, "and we can't keep on spending a couple of million on a picture when we have to fight to get our money back. It's shortsighted of the chains—not all are monopolistic in attitude, of course—to refuse us our fair share when they depend on the independents for much of their best product to draw people back to their theaters."

The circuits, of course—especially the one controlling Reno—deny the contention, pointing out that they have problems of their own, problems varying with each house, or "situation," in the chain. These are complicated, intra-industry questions, and the fight will go on, doubtless, as long as there's a picture business.

BUT the "indies" here have a doughy leader in Goldwyn, who feels hurt because his Danny Kaye picture has played in only 8,000 theaters through the country "when it should play 12,000," he says.

"I made my money in the pioneer film days," says Sam, "when you could make money, and I will live just as well if I never make another picture."

"But mine is a crusade for all independent producers against an undemocratic system. I don't care if I spend a million dollars fighting it—I'll keep on fighting."

Information On G. I. Bill Of Rights Available Here

The following information regarding the G. I. Bill of Rights is furnished by Karl E. Peterson, service officer, Loten Dinsmore-Fred Schwing Post No. 631, Veterans of Foreign Wars:

The office of Veterans of Foreign Wars 343 Penn'a. Ave. West of Warren, Pa. desires to assist any returned veteran in determining his rights under the so called G. I. Bill passed by the United States Congress June 22, 1944.

Most interest to date has been shown in the educational benefits made available to veterans who served in the armed forces on or after Sept. 16, 1940.

Every veteran who was not over 25 upon entering and served at least 90 days or was released by reason of a disability incurred in the service or was honorably discharged is entitled under the law to one year's education or training at any "approved educational or training institution" at government expense.

Upon satisfactory completion of this course, he or she is eligible for an additional period of education equal to the time spent in service after Sept. 16, 1940, though in no case can the total period exceed four years.

It will be necessary in all cases for the applicant to fill out a form to determine his status. The office of Veterans of Foreign Wars of Warren, will have a supply of the necessary forms and stand ready and willing to furnish and assist any veteran in filling in and forwarding the same to headquarters.

The above information applies only to all veterans who were under 25 at the time they entered the service. The fact that he or she was under 25 would imply that his or her education had been interrupted, delayed, interrupted, or interfered with and thereby make him eligible.

If, however, the veteran was over 25 at the time he entered the service, he is required to submit evidence to show that his training or education was actually interfered with before he becomes eligible to educational benefits. Incidentally, it has come to our notice that the Hoff Business College of Warren has been approved as an institution for training returned veterans in all commercial subjects.

He has served in the campaigns against North Africa, Sicily, Italy and now southern France and writes he is still safe and well.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Neilly, 24 Buchanan street, have received word that their son, Pfc. William Neilly, is now at Clovis, N. M., Army Air Field to take several months training on the B-29. Another son, Sgt. Virgil N. Neilly, who has been in Italy, has arrived safely in southern France. He has already participated in three major campaigns, the invasion of North Africa, Sicily and Italy.

BRITAINS SEE BATTLE ON ROCKET COAST

London, Sept. 7.—(P)—While Britain passed another bombless night thousands of men, women and children kept a vigil atop the white cliffs of Dover, watching at long range the death throes of the Nazi troops trapped on the French rocket bomb coast.

The story of the struggle was told in the clouds of smoke which hung over the French shore and the sound of heavy explosions which rolled back across the channel as the Germans hastily demolished supply dumps, gun emplacements and flying bomb installations from which they once loosed destruction upon Britain.

Since last Friday the Germans have sent over only one brief barrage of rockets.

Board of Arbitration May Be Needed To Settle Mess

There may be a war in the world, but up at North Warren civic strife is on the verge of breaking out with ball bats instead of tommy guns and catchers' masks instead of helmets. However, there promises to be no casualties, although enough hot air is flying to fill a flock of barrage balloons and far-famed North Warren good nature is taking the verbal battles in stride.

It all came about through a series of ball games played by the State Hospital and the North Warren firemen, and the end is not yet. The State Hospital gang claims to have strait-jacketed the firemen and the firemen claim to have doused the Hospital boys, and the argument is hotter than a two-alarm blaze.

The pen men of both teams have rushed into print and their effusions are sizzling the sport pages and the Civic Club is planning to get the chief monologists to debate the whole affair at the annual minstrel show. It really would make a good act and supply enough comedy for several evenings.

The firemen today came through with a letter denying the proceedings and in reply to the screed put forth by the State Hospital boys, who have claimed the championship. The firemen have some ideas something as follows relative to the whole proceeding:

"On reading the Times-Mirror of September 7 we find those daffydillys at the State Hospital are claiming they are champions of the fairest city in Conewago township, and what a lot of bunk that is, to be sure. Now, the Firemen took three games in a row and have their championship cup resting on a shelf at headquarters.

"It seems that the Hospital boys have a rule book of their own which says 'when the opposing team packs up its bats and goes home, then all disputes settled, adjudicated and passed upon by the umpire may be changed as per the management's desires. And really this is the crux of the thing, as the Firemen have been conducting their games by the American League rule book.

"And the umpires selected by the Hospital seem to have been suffering from singhove, spavin and blind staggers, as in one game a State player hit a foul which went over his ump's head and was caught by the Firemen's receiver. His Umps, being a sufferer from the triple threat named above, said he didn't see the play as he couldn't turn around fast enough. So the game continued and the batter socked out a home run, much to the detriment of the score.

"Now understand, the Firemen are not complaining and are abiding by the decision of the Ump, and as long as the Firemen have

Cleansed and softened in water, this crust will be several days' ration for this civilian under the "protective" hand of the Axis. After Hitler is defeated the job of helping the liberated countries will be enormous until they can get on their feet again. Conference of Adult Scouts During Month

Mrs. Harold Stahl, of Warren, has been chosen to head the conference of adults in Girl Scouting in northwestern Pennsylvania and western New York, to be held in Warren on Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 26 and 27.

Committee chairmen are hard at work under the direction of Mrs. Stahl making preparations for the conference. A long list of notable women will come to Warren as speakers and to serve as discussion leaders. Among them is Mrs. Adolphus Staton, of Washington, D. C., chairman of Girl Scouts of Region Three and a member of the national board of Girl Scouts.

Since traveling has become unpatriotic, the plan of large regional conferences has been abandoned by the Girl Scout organization and smaller area conferences which require a minimum of traveling have been substituted. The privilege of entertaining such a group will probably never again come to local Girl Scouts.

Girl Scout leaders and council members of Warren county will have an opportunity to enjoy the inspiration and training of the meeting right in their own community. Every effort is being put forth to make the event memorable and to make full use of the advantages it affords for the adults who lead the 44 Girl Scout and Brownie troops in our county.

TIMES TOPICS

HAD QUIET EVENING

Warren's "finest" last evening enjoyed a most quiet period with only three entries appearing on the docket. A prowler call received hours after the prowler had disappeared, the settlement of a family argument and some boys playing pranks constituted the sum total of the night's labor.

PREPARE FOR WINTER

RECALL PICTURE

Ralph H. Wagner, YMCA secretary, will be in charge of Monday's program of Rotary Club, to follow luncheon at 12:15 p. m. at the YWCA activities building. Members will be given the opportunity to view the motion picture "Men of Tomorrow", an interesting dramatization of the aims and purposes of the YMCA throughout the world.

CIGARETTES STOLEN

The R. W. Spalding Company, of Meadville, which owns most of the cigarette machines in Warren and which services them reports that their patrol truck, loaded with smokes valued at $2000 was stolen near the Keppler Hotel near Meadville while the driver was servicing a vending machine. It is thought that the truck would be abandoned after the cigarettes had been unloaded. State police are at work on the case.

BUYS GAS STATION

Jack Volstencroft, who for some time has been salesman for the Turner Radio Shop has purchased the Atlantic Service Station at Pennsylvania avenue and Water street. The station in the future will be known as "Jack's Service Station" and with the many friends of the young man it should prove a paying investment.

SENT TO JAIL

Before Judge Charles G. Hubbard, of McKean county, Louis Levstic, of Sheffield, was sentenced at Smethport yesterday to pay a fine of $200 and to serve two months in the county jail. Levstic was arrested some time ago on a charge of operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. However, the jail sentence was terminated upon payment of the fine and costs as Levstic is engaged in essential war work.

P.A.C. Season Plans Being Matured Now

The program for the second year of the Presbyterian Activities Club has been completed and will offer many new features to PAC members. Based on experience gained through the past year's activities, the entire program has been designed to be more objective in Christian training.

An entirely new feature of this year will be a dinner club, called "Club 17", for PAC members attaining the age of seventeen. These older members will be given special opportunities for training and experience as leaders, as well as relationship activities within their own age group.

Additional adult leadership has been added to the staff of the PAC in order to make higher objectives obtainable. New directors will be under a new plan.

The PAC started a year ago under the direction of Mrs. R. E. Sires and K. W. Davis, making 7,000 contacts with boys and girls of Beatty or High School age. At least one activity has been held each week throughout the year.

The new program will continue to sponsor a dance the last Saturday of each month, as was done during the past year—and in addition will sponsor an activity at the Y. M. C. A. once each month, two weeks before the scheduled dance. Special activities have been planned for each of the other weeks.

Saturday, September 30th, will start the new program when an "Anniversary Dance" will be held at the Y. W. C. A. Special plans are being made to make this one of the best of PAC parties. Further details will be announced soon.

The directors wish to thank parents and many others who have contributed to the success of the PAC this past year. It is their wish and desire to offer, through the PAC, Christian Fellowship to boys and girls and to encourage their attendance regularly at their respective churches. Membership is open to any boy or girl of Beatty or High School age. There is no fee or dues.

Paris Dines By Candlelight On Meager Stocks of Foods

Les Halles, famous central market place of Paris, may soon be crowded again with displays of fruit and vegetables, as food stockpiles from Normandy and Brittany are set aside for relief of the hungry French capital.

By ROSETE HARGROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent
Somewhere in France, Sept. 8—
Liberation of Paris not only means freedom for the beleaguered city, but also food for a population on the verge of starvation.

Since even before D-Day, the city has been living on whatever meager stocks it has been able to accumulate, and these have reached the point of exhaustion. Now supplies of butter, cheese and meat, stockpiled in Normandy and Brittany, are being rushed to the hungry populace.

I have talked to many people from Paris. The situation there has been tense for months. There was practically no electricity. Gas for cooking was turned on only one hour at noon and one hour at night. Cafes and restaurants were closed two whole days a week and people who frequented restaurants dined by candlelight or with no lights at all. The majority, however, stayed at home because more and more subway stations were being closed and there were no other means of transportation. Cinemas were open one day a week only, and that in the afternoon.

In Normandy, 600 tons of butter were set aside for Paris, enough to allow for a ration of 125 grammes (4 ounces) per person per week for 15 days. Cheesemakers concentrated on cooking cheeses—which keep indefinitely instead of on the manufacture of Camenbert for which this region is especially renowned because the latter can only be kept a certain time.

Lack of storage space and refrigerating facilities did not allow for great quantities of meat to be held, but a new order was issued controlling the slaughtering of cattle until such time as means of transportation would be available. Live cattle will be sent to Paris to be killed there.

The authorities in Normandy have also arranged with the military authorities to exchange fresh vegetables such as string beans and cauliflower, fresh milk, butter and cheese against their canned equivalents.

For at least two months before D-Day no transports had been available for the shipment of food parcels to Paris and other cities. Mr. Andre le Troquer, who was appointed Commissioner of Liberated Territories by General de Gaulle and arrived in France recently to study the problem of feeding Paris, told me that it would take 1,000,000 kilos of food per day (2,200,000 lbs.) to take care of the population.

"That represents a lot of food," he commented, "but the Allies have promised me their help in supplying certain foodstuffs such as flour and canned milk, as well as the trucks for transport, of which we need something like 2000." He went on to say that according to the latest reports to reach him from the capital, even the transport of foodstuffs by canal and rivers (which had latterly provided the only means of access to the city) had stopped. The bombing of bridges had isolated the city. The last railroad line open—which went from Paris to Orleans—had ceased to function.

Once supplies reach Paris, there will be no difficulty regarding distribution, said Mr. Le Troquer. Foodstuffs will be allocated by districts and the municipalities have the necessary mechanism to ensure swift distribution. In any case, if extra help is needed, there will be scores of people who will be only too glad to volunteer their services wherever needed.

MENUS OF THE DAY

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Saturday Dinner's A Party

Chicken Casserole
Toasted Green Salad
Italian Bread Sticks
Stuffed Pineapple

(Recipes Serve Four)

Chicken and Noodle Casserole
2 cups diced
cooked chicken
1/2 cup chicken
stock
1 cup cream
2 tablespoons margarine
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon rosemary
8 oz. noodles,
cooked

Melt margarine in double boiler over hot water, add seasonings. Blend in flour, add chicken stock and cream slowly, stirring constantly until smooth and thickened. Add diced chicken. Fill casserole dish with alternate layers of cooked noodles and creamed chicken. Dot with margarine and bake in 400° oven until top is golden brown.

Stuffed Pineapple
Select a ripe and attractive pineapple. Slice in half lengthwise, leaving the stem intact. With a sharp knife hollow out pineapple. Discard hard center section. Cut good meat into squares and place in refrigerator to chill. Combine with chilled melon balls, orange sections and seedless grapes or other fresh fruits and fill hollowed out shell, from which the fruits are served.

Save some orange and lemon rinds, boil in water for a few minutes and use the liquid in fruit drinks, lemonade and iced tea.

As British troops occupied Antwerp, forward columns thrust across the Dutch border to Breda; General Patton's forces reached the Moselle at a point between Nancy and Metz, while in the north, Allied forces were closing in on Boulogne and the Germans trapped along the Channel.

Hometown Girl

by J.C. FLEMING and LOIS EBY AP Features

YESTERDAY: Susan Corboy, pretty secretary of Midvale's leading lawyer, is puzzled by a strange youth whom she encountered while on a business call to Scarbrough House, a long-closed mansion which is being reopened despite the town's disapproval. Years ago old Josiah Scarbrough had earned Midvale's hatred when his pain-factory mysteriously burned, taking the life of a young chemist. Murder was hinted. Thinking of these things, Susan is startled when the young man she had seen in Scarbrough House, and who said his name was Jack Blane, draws up in a truck. For business reasons, she agrees to dine with him. Over coffee he asks why she, as well as the town—hates the Scarbrough name. Susan tells him the chemist who was popularly believed to have been killed by the family was her father.

Chapter 3

THE sun was warm and golden along Maple Row. It sifted through the young green maple leaves, making a dancing bright pattern around Susan's feet as she walked.

Everything seemed sharply clear this morning. Not only the houses of Midvale and the hills beyond, but the reasons for her own actions in the last few weeks, which had at times been cloudy even to herself. She turned in at the Lockhart house. "Well, you look happy this morning, Susan!" Jim Lockhart stood in his front door, his glasses and the Detroit paper in one hand. He was a short, stocky man with deep-set eyes—Midvale's hardware merchant. "Come in. Come in."

"I finished typing your contract yesterday and thought I'd save you a trip to the office."

"Good girl." Daliah Lockhart dried her red hands on her apron and showed a kitchen chair across to Susan. She was a thin woman with bony features and piercing eyes. "Sit down, Susan. Spose you've had your breakfast?" She went back to drying dishes while Lockhart glanced through the contract.

"Seems to me," she said after a minute, slamming down a dish with angry force. "If the folks around here let that Scarbrough bunch come back, they're plumb crazy."

"Don't know how you could keep 'em out," Lockhart murmured. "If they've a mind to move back. Not according to law anyway. That right, Susan?"

"Yes," Susan said. Daliah's gaze shifted to her husband. "You tell Susan what that paint salesman said yesterday?"

Lockhart stowed his contract away into a back pocket. "Just a rumor," he said testily. "Nothing to get upset over."

"What was it?" Susan was pleased that her casualness was real.

"It was Grover Tilton who travels this territory for Royal Varnish," Lockhart said reluctantly, edged on by his wife's relentless eye. "He said there was word floatin' around Detroit that someone was starting a paint factory here in Midvale."

SUSAN stared at Lockhart. "You mean," she said slowly, "Julie Scarbrough might be coming back to open her father's old factory?" She was suddenly frightened. The shadow of the Scarbroughs was over her again. If they were coming back for good—if they started the factory again... The old feeling of them as a Presence came back with the haunting grip of childhood terror. She began to tremble.

But as she returned to the office she forgot the shadow of Scarbrough House. Jack Blane's face was before her. She could see the hard, tan leanness of it, the quick, infectious smile, the dark eyes so alert, so challenging. A glow raced through her.

A woman was sitting in there alone. A tall woman in her late fifties, dressed in a grey, pin-striped tulle with a mink coat hung loosely from her shoulders. Her white hair was short, softly waved about a regal head, her brown eyes large with amber lights in them. She smiled at Susan.

"Le Favre is the name," Her voice sounded warm and crisp. "Mr. Thorndyke is expecting me." Her sudden laugh held a note of apology. "I'm afraid I startled you."

Susan realized now how she was staring. She struggled desperately for composure while her mind raced on in wild clamor. This was Julie Scarbrough! This was the woman who had moved like a persistent wraith through her life. The woman who knew the real story of her father's death!

"Mr. Thorndyke should be in any minute. I—"

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver and Robin McKinn

Four stars to Margery Sharp for her creation of one of the most unique and lovable heroines of the year—Miss Cluny Brown, who appears in her novel, "Cluny Brown," a Book-of-the-Month Club selection for September.

Cluny Brown is the niece of a London plumber, and people are always saying of her, "She doesn't know her place," and saying to her, "Who do you think you are, Cluny Brown?"

What does she do that's so outrageous? Well, for one thing she goes to the Ritz for tea. Imagine, a plumber's niece going to the Ritz. It just isn't done. But Cluny saved up two-and-a-tanner and went, all on her own, just to see what it was like.

What Cluny needs is taming down, her Uncle Arn decides, and he arranges for her to go into service as a parlormaid at Friars Carmel in Devon. That ought to settle her, he thinks. But it doesn't.

She has never lived in the country before, and it is a source of endless delights to her. One day, after she has played truant for two hours, simply to look at lambs, Mrs. Maile, the housekeeper, decides it's time to give her a dressing down. She does this exceptionally well; generations of maids had been reduced to tears in an average of five minutes, and to penitence in ten. Grimly, she sits Cluny fifteen. "Who do you think you are?" she begins, which is a mistake, because that remark immediately sets Cluny off to think of all the train of events that had brought her there. When she has finished, she asks the girl, "Well, what have you to say for yourself?"

"I do wish Uncle Arn were here," sighs Cluny. "Why do you say that?" the housekeeper asks, more gently now. "I would like him to see the lambs," comments Cluny. After that, Mrs. Maile gives up. Parlormaid really are very hard to find these days.

Margery Sharp, author of "Cluny Brown," "The Nutmeg Tree," and other novels, is English, though she was married in New York—to Geoffrey Castle, now a captain in the British Army. The best man at the wedding was the actor, Robert Morley, who was playing currently in "Oscar Wilde," and also in the screen version of "Henry VIII." One of the guests, arriving late, saw Morley standing on the church steps. He reminded her of some historical figure, but in the flurry of the moment she couldn't decide just which one. "Who is that man?" she whispered to the first person she could reach. "Why, don't you know?" was the reply. "That's Oscar Wilde." According to the story, the guest left hastily, presumably to puzzle out things in quiet.

SALARY HIKES DRAW GUFFEY CRITICISM

Washington, Sept. 7.—(A.P.)—Senator Guffey (D-Pa.) asserted today that Pennsylvania state employees have been notified they must pay political assessments to the Republican organization out of their increased salaries.

Reiterating an assertion he made after Governor Martin's announcement of the salary increases that they were "intended to benefit the Pennsylvania Republican political machine," Guffey declared in a statement.

DEMOCRATS TO MEET
Harrisburg, Sept. 7.—(A.P.)—David L. Lawrence, state Democratic chairman said yesterday that Governor J. Howard McGrath, of Rhode Island, would be the principal speaker at a meeting of the Democratic state committee here on Sept. 13. The party's platform will be adopted at the session.

St. Paul's Church To Promote Parish Education Program

With keen appreciation of the value of the spiritual training of the growing generation, St. Paul's Lutheran church is joining with other churches of the Augustana Synod in promoting an advance in parish education, according to announcement made by the Rev. Nore G. Gustafson.

This advance is a part of a movement in which approximately 1200 churches, located in the United States and Canada, will participate. It is being promoted in response to a decision by the synod at the last annual meeting designating September 10-October 1 as "Parish Education Month." The decision calls upon all churches of the synod to redouble their efforts to reach every person with Christian teaching and to strengthen their educational programs in every possible way.

The Rev. Gustafson quoted President Roosevelt as saying recently: "In this time of our spiritual testing as a nation, it is good that we should strengthen our religious ties and reinforce the quality of our religious education."

Church Notes

PASTORS ASKED TO REPORT CHANGES

Most churches will resume their regular schedule of services early this month, necessitating changes in standing notices which appear on this page each Friday. When such changes are made, reports should be made to the church editor no later than noon on Thursday, since no changes are made without proper authorization.

Trinity Memorial church school opens its fall session at 9:45 a. m. Sunday with a children's service and sound picture, "A Certain Nobleman." Members of the church school are urged to come between 9:15 and 9:30 to be assigned to classes. Trinity parish will resume its full schedule of services with a corporate communion at the 11 a. m. service. Those who cannot attend at that hour are urged to come and make their communion at the eight o'clock celebration. Additional services in Trinity church during the week are: Intercessions daily at 9 a. m.; Thursday, Holy Communion at 10 a. m.

The necessary repairs and decorations having been made, the First Presbyterian church will be open this Sunday morning for both Sunday school and morning worship. Rev. Harold C. Warren will use as his morning topic "Standing Up to Life." Jackson Barrell will play three organ numbers: Salvation Now Is Come to Earth by Bach. Benediction by Saint-Saens and Invocation by Guilmant. The choir will sing Holy Art Thou by Handel.

Brotherhood members of Moriah Lutheran church at Ludlow will go to Sheffield Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock to be guests of the Brotherhood of that parish. On Wednesday evening, the Martin Missionary Society of Moriah church will have a special meeting to which it invites the public.

There will be no service of morning worship in First Methodist church on Sunday because of the pastor's absence at conference in Meadville. The session of church school will be held at the regular hour of ten o'clock.

Special meetings scheduled in Bethany Lutheran parish in Sheffield next week are: Tuesday, 8 p. m. Brotherhood meeting; with Ludlow and Kane Brotherhoods as guests; Friday, 8 p. m., Luther League.

Because Rev. Harold Knappenberger is in Meadville for conference sessions, there will be no Sunday school or morning worship in Grace Methodist church on Sunday.

Miss Pearl Lund, who has served for many years as a Korean missionary, will be guest speaker at the 11 a. m. service Sunday in First Evangelical church.

Charles Waterbrandt will again be the speaker for the 11 a. m. service in Calvary Baptist church on Sunday.

BERKS COUNTY BARS TO CLOSE ON V-DAY

Reading, Sept. 7.—(A.P.)—The Berks County Clubmen's Association has voted to close bars for a 24-hour period after the announcement of the unconditional surrender of Germany.

Bertram J. Murphy, Reading attorney and president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Fraternal and Social Organizations, said the move was made at the request of Mayor J. Henry Stump and after a statement yesterday from Governor Martin calling for "a very decent celebration" of Germany's capitulation.

The governor said he personally felt state stores should be closed and added that shutting down of taprooms on V-Day was a matter for local communities to determine.

Injuries May Slow Dragons In Tilt With Johnsonburg Team

Injuries may be an important factor in Saturday's Johnsonburg game, several of the Dragons being held on the sidelines with slight leg injuries. Mac Strydom, center, was out of practice yesterday nursing an injured leg; Bob Wilder, backfield man, was on the sidelines with a bum knee; and several other of the knes were on the bench yesterday. These injuries are not serious, however, and they are expected to see plenty of action against a tough Johnsonburg team.

Johnsonburg has five returning lettermen, three of them seniors, the others juniors. Coach Funnair of Johnsonburg has announced that the burg eleven has a triple threat backfield, with some excellent runners, passers and punters. The Johnsonburg team is prepared to battle the Dragons to the end.

Probable starting lineup for Johnsonburg is: Ends—Aielo and

Strongest Club In District Of Pittsburgh Here Sunday

The Oakmont Club of the Greater Pittsburgh League, scheduled to meet the National Forge nine at Wilder Field Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, is by far the strongest team in that district, according to Phil Grabowski, sports writer for the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

According to Grabowski, the Oaks have such experienced pitchers as Stan Ferens, formerly with Butler, and Dick Tate, who has an outstanding reputation in the Smoky City.

Earlier in the season the Pittsburgh writer predicted that the Oaks would win out in the Amateur Baseball Federation tournament. However, the club dropped a close decision to Dormont to lose this year.

In the first half of the Greater Pittsburgh League the Oakmont team beat out Crafton in a play-off to gain the circuit title. The second round never was definitely decided. Oakmont wound up in a tie with Dormont and the latter club failed to play them for the crown after having won the Amateur Federation title.

A pair of southpaw pitchers will be ready to start against the Forge nine, it was announced today by Len Flowers, manager of the Smoky City team.

The left-handers, both of whom have classy records for the season,

Browns and Yankees Share Top As Detroit Closes In

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

St. Louis was back on top of the American League today, tied with the New York Yankees, after three days in second place, but infield jitters and the onrushing Detroit Tigers gave Manager Luke Sewell no peace of mind.

Joe McCarthy's clan was due to open a cut throat series with the fourth place Boston Red Sox at Fenway Park today while St. Louis hoped to continue pawing their "cousins" from Chicago whom they have drubbed 10 out of 14 games.

The Browns almost missed their chance to tie the idle Yankees last night because of early-inning boots against Chicago. Three runs in the ninth inning, two off the bat of Mike Chartak who came through with a bases loaded single, turned the tide, 5 to 4.

Detroit pulled to within a single game of the deadlocked leaders on Dizzy Trout's impressive three-hit shutout of Cleveland, 3-0, for his 24th victory. The eccentric right-hander's record now stands 28 complete games, six shutouts (tops in the

BEHIND THE LINES

Chuck McLean signed his St. Louis Cardinal contract last night . . . We are wondering when the Forge and Struthers are going to get together . . . Bowlers are having one of the best seasons ever . . . We expect to go to Johnsonburg Saturday . . . To determine whether the Dragons will be a success or not . . . That fellow on the football field who is called the Spy Smasher is Larry Zobrest . . . Frank Scalise, who played football in W.H.S. for three years, left Monday for Naval Air Training at Jacksonville, Fla. . . Dean Nelson leaves next week for Westminster College to take up his studies and to play basketball . . . Why not bring back the competition between girls in area schools? . . . Titusville, whom Warren meets here the 23rd, is very inexperienced this year . . . Oil City opens their season tonight against Titusville . . . Why can't those Dragons make a better showing against the second team? . . . Next year's football team should be a hulu, with some real huskies turning . . . Basketball minded fellows have begun their warming-up practices at the Y. They are getting in shape for what they say will be a good season . . . A group of high school boys and girls are reportedly trying to start a bowling league made up of high schoolers . . . The Y pool reopens next week after being repainted . . . Maybe the Red Jackets will start again next year if the war is over. Could be? . . . Let's hope that Warren's passing in Saturday's game will be in better shape than in Monday's encounter . . . Advancements and "de" advancements still prevail on the football squad . . . The P calls Warren's double football tilt over Labor Day an "ironmitten stunt" . . . We are wondering what happened to Red Lee in the first two grid games? . . . Prediction on Saturday's game: Warren 20, Johnsonburg 6, 2-2 . . . Those former clowns about town, Leak Conroy and gang, like Texas, but how they miss Warren athletics . . . Did you know that in California each grade school with five or six rooms has a plot as large as Beaty Field for recreation purposes? . . . That shows how far behind in recreation Warren is . . .

Attention, Industrial League Members

The Industrial Bowling League will open its 1944-45 season on Tuesday, September 12. Among the new faces which will be seen in this year's league is Jimmy Blomquist, who is sponsoring an All-North Warren team.

All bowlers are asked to be at the Penn Bowling Alleys promptly at 7:00 p. m. on bowling nights.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 8.—(A)—The Lockport Cubs and Jamestown Falcons took a 1-0 lead over their opponents in the opening games of the PONY League best-three-of-five semi-final series last night.

The league leading Cubs defeated the fourth-place Hornell Pirates, 2-1. Neither team scored until the eighth inning when Lockport tallied twice. Hornell rallied for its only run in the ninth.

Jamestown eked out a 2-1 win over the Batavia Clippers. The Clippers took the lead in the fifth when Drew singled and went to second on Jack Tighe's sacrifice bunt, took third on Ballard's grounder and came home on Pitcher Patte's line single to center.

School Changes Forced By Many Shifts In Enrollment

School enrollment figures reported to the office of John G. Rossman, superintendent of borough schools, will bring about a change in the high school and Beaty buildings, effective next Monday morning. At that time, students of the upper half of the ninth grade, who ordinarily would be transferred from Beaty to high school at mid-year, will be moved to high school and take up their studies in that building.

It is felt that the transfer at this time will help to balance the teaching load and eliminate the first of February transfers.

Enrollment figures from the various buildings show a total enrollment of 2,691, loss of 131 and gain of 88 for a total loss of 43 in the entire school district. Figures by schools are as follows:

High school 752 with a loss of 73; Beaty 751, a gain of 25; East 210, gain of 33; Home street 106, a loss of 9; Johnson 286, a gain of 24; South 211, a gain of 6; Lacy 222, a loss of 29; Seneca 40, remaining constant; McClintock 133, a loss of 20.

This registration makes necessary some adjustments between Home street and Johnson, Lacy and South street. At East street, where the first grade enrollment is nearly double that of two years ago, the school district has found it necessary to add an instructor to the faculty. Mrs. Moses Connelly will begin her duties there on Monday morning on a one-year basis.

Several facts may be contributory to these shifts in school enrollment. Presence of the Sylva plant in the center of town has undoubtedly influenced many to move to more centrally located homes to be near their work and, at the same time, has brought some new residents, who naturally have selected living quarters as near to the plant as possible.

Another factor to be considered is improvement in general living conditions and higher salaries because of war production, permitting those who formerly lived in outlying sections to move to higher rent and close-in neighborhoods.

(From Page One)

The forgings were carried by double 3 1/2-inch chains about twelve feet long. The forgings dropped to the shop floor and toppled into the pit where the men were at work. The crane was operated by Peter Pokosh, and according to eyewitnesses the usual warning that the crane was approaching had been sounded. Carl Hinton, foreman of the department, had passed the scene but a moment before the tragedy.

Mr. Jones was born at Rolph, Pa., August 5, 1894, and during the years that he was employed at the National Forge had proven himself a highly skilled and conscientious workman.

He is survived by his wife, Florene, and two children, Clarence and Donna, at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jones, Sheffield; three brothers and three sisters: Roy, in the armed forces at a camp in Mississippi; Verne, Youngsville; Lewis Jones and Mrs. Mabel Hansen, Sheffield; Mrs. Alice Dykema, Carey; Mrs. Bertha Camp, of York.

Removal has been made to the Young Funeral Home in Youngsville, the body to be taken to the family home on Saturday. Services will be held at the home, 244 Bates street, at 2:30 p. m. Monday, conducted by Rev. Dwight Jack, Methodist minister. Interment will be made in the Youngsville cemetery, with military rites by the American Legion.

By NOLAND NORGARD

Rome, Sept. 8.—(P)—Eight army tanks and infantry fought forward another mile on the Adriatic coast yesterday and reached the banks of the Marano river, only four miles from Rimini, but 12 miles inland from the Germans, counter-attacking directly with tanks, brought the Allied offensive to a standstill, Allied headquarters said today.

Near the other end of the Italian front American troops, who today finished a solid year of combat on the Italian mainland, advanced to within two miles of Pistoia, the last important city south of the Gothic Line remaining in enemy hands.

Farther west patrols from the U. S. 92d Infantry divisions pushed well north of Lucca.

VICTORY FLEET DAY

Victory Fleet Day, September 27, the third anniversary of the birth of the wartime merchant fleet, will be dedicated to the shipping companies of the United States who have maintained the global life lines of a nation at war. The War Shipping Administration has directed that this year's celebration be in honor of the American flag lines' successful accomplishment of the most complex and most dangerous transportation task in history.
